

A single window to access many knowledge sources!

Are your employees unable to quickly access an appropriate learning and job resource when required?

Do you have dispersed learning systems with limited analytics and governance?

Is your current LMS geared towards compliance tracking and has poor user adoption?

Do you wish for a single platform that will enable you to deploy, govern and report your learning strategy?

Performance Driven By Learning

Deploy Indecomm Learning's WoW! University—a portal overlay on your corporate LMS and other HR Information Systems. It provides a single window access to training, organizational development, talent management, and professional development to your employees and you.

Guarantee your employees a seamless knowledge access experience for their development
